

CLEAN ENERGY TRANSITION PARTNERSHIP

As The CETPartnership is an initiative co-funded by the European Union that brings together public and private stakeholders in the research and innovation ecosystems, from European and non-European countries and regions. CET Partnership aims to create and foster transnational innovation ecosystems and overcome a fragmented research and innovation landscape.

Funded by the European Union

20th of July 2023

10.45-12.15 CEST

GRAND HYATT GOA

Ballroom 1

A European Approach to an International Cooperation for the Clean Energy Transition

Panel Discussion will discuss the importance of international cooperation and projects in addressing the Mission Innovations. The ambition of the CETP is to multiply the budgets and international collaboration efforts in funding the development and implementation of technologies and solutions, which are essential to address the climate crisis.

Why attend

- Gain knowledge about the European approach to international cooperation for the clean energy transition
- Meet with professionals from academia, industry, and government sectors
- Stay updated with the latest advancements and initiatives in clean energy
- Explore potential collaboration opportunities. Gain knowledge about the European approach to international cooperation for the clean energy transition

Who should attend

- Policy makers and regulators
- Industry leaders and professionals
- Researchers and academics
- Clean energy enthusiasts
- Environmentalists and advocates
- International cooperation stakeholders

Michael Hübner, CETP Coordinator:
"We invite public funding programs from all around the globe to join the CET Partnership to stimulate international R&I projects"

Features

Keynote:

Rosalinde van der Vlies,
European Commission

Panellists:

- Francesco Basile, CETP
- Matthijs Soede, European Commission
- Raghunath Reddy, Govt. India
- Mark Ackiewicz, DOE USA